

KENNET VALLEY HASH HOUSE HARRIERS

Mag No 031 - Sunday 11th April 1999 - The Red Lion at Avebury

As I sit down to write my 29th Mag full of timeless prose moving the emotions of the reader with sublime artistry about yet another fantastic trail laid by me I realise how fortunate it is that I am so modest. Enough of these subtle hints that I need a volunteer to write the Mag next time and on with the report on the run from the Red Lion.

The sun always shines on the KVVH3 and it shon on our loyal core of runners Margaret, Jeremy, Ian, Keith M and Keith S who were joined by walkers Richard W and Trevor in the centre of the largest stone circle in Europe. The hare was that incredibly handsome (and modest) chap Navy Mike and he gave a quick resume of the British Standard Hash trail signs before the hounds galloped off through a field full of huge stones. The trail did a loop through the village past Avebury Manor and the old church and then out along grassy lanes to a tumulus at the top of the world where you could see for 100 miles in all directions. There we had a Regroup and discussed philosophy and the provenance of the stones as Keith M and Keith S came steadily up the hill and caught up. It was only a year ago that Keith M was lying in a hospital ward after a heart attack so nobody minds if he doesn't challenge Jeremy for the lead all the time - and Keith S was running with his arm in plaster. Then down a long slope towards Avebury and back along the watermeadows home. What a wonderful trail.

The pub was warm and friendly and we gossiped in a companionable group. No speeches as I had forgotten to bring the Hash Horn but plenty of beer and we are all looking forward to Margarets run through the bluebells on the next hash.
