

Hash 117 - The Plough at Eastbury, 28th July 2002

Eastbury. Never heard of it. Somewhere near Lambourn, apparently. Find it at end of single track road. Grass growing down middle. Jolly good for cleaning underside of low-slung sports car. Pretty village, river, old houses, bridges, sunshine. Late for a change. Car park full. Park underneath Range Rover. Hashers all long gone, but clear arrows. Separate routes for runners and walkers. Set off. Rogue walkers coming towards me. Why? Point out their correct route. Run up hill. Run down hill back to Eastbury. Find T. Swear. Run up another hill. Overtake rogue walkers. Run down hill. Find T. Swear again. Run back up hill. Run down hill. Find T. Swear lots. Run up hill. Run down hill. Run up hill. Find hare (Ian). Smile sweetly. Find Laura. Run down hill. Find Dave. To Eastbury, hurrah. Pretty village, river, old houses, bridges, sunshine. Pass rogue walkers for 3rd time. Eastbury not Eastbury, however. Eastbury actually East Garston. Eastbury 2 miles. Swear. Run to Eastbury. Pretty village, river, old houses, bridges, sunshine. Find T. Swear. Find pub. Find other runners. Find walkers but no rogues. Find no Mike Fisher - AWOL. Good Grief!

Thank Ian for lovely run. As always.
