

KENNET VALLEY HASH HOUSE HARRIERS – KVH<sup>3</sup>

Hash 0185 – Sunday 6 Feb 2005 – The Downgate, Hungerford

Most thymes when we have an ash in Hungerford wee get lost in the comon – an this was like such thymes, most us got lost. Of corse this was not occidental; this was the purpose of a deviant, cunning air who introductioned us for the first time to the Moreereece version of the ash rools which, as far as this paw sole knose, run somewhere as fellows:

- 3: spred the flower at least a weak beforehand, then pee on it so it's idden
- 7: add arrows cos arrows never lye - but appropriately can, especially in Wiltshire.
- 4: ded ends are best crossed backwards to avoid confusing
- 2: cheque backs require that you continue rite on – but on other side of the hedge.
- 9: if you see a cycle kick it out

Once we'd had these rools explained a few thymes, most had gived up tying our shoo laces, so Andrea took control and led the walkers off at a briskly pace cos they were needed somewear else. I never sored them again - sored some other buggers, but they woz unnecessary.

Wee runners all set off alongside the road like a packet of lemmings, all following each other, and none following the flower. Moreereece skilfully brought us back onto tack with a set of semi-four signals that the lait Keeth desifered cos he is a sailorman and nose these things. Between you and I, I thinks Keeth is a sailorman who doesn't like being on land, cos every time I seas him he is all ways carrying water – paw sod, no wonder he is often last. Dave is going to be a sailorman to, cos he has bought a boat for £10 and is going far way to sail it – I think he is going far way cos he is embarrassed cos it is an old boat – not like Keeths boat that is big and fast – that's what keeth says. T'other Keeth, the one hoo is paid by social security, is learning to be a roman and is flying to rome – but I'm not shaw he's coming back. Brian wants to go on ryan's air for some reason, but he can only pay 99 new pence, which is probably wye he cant decide if to do it.

Anyways, this ash thing – after the comon, and back in Hungerford, we got our first experiment of this ash as a tortis and air race – but now Moreereece was a tortis and not an air, which confused me a lot. Every time we aired passed, we'd bump up with him again 10 minutes later leening against a tree chewing a cocoa leaf or sumthing. I sweared (*@+!) he has at least 2 identical bruffers – but perhaps I woz the won aloocinating.

Anyways again - wee then ran threw The Beer Hotel where you can get good bear. But I hear that the food their is naff and you have to sign a descaler against being poisoned if you want to eat meet, so we did not stop. We only stop when we dunno.ware we iz, witch was quite often, but not at the Beer.Hotel cos we new we woz there. It was then on and on (wee keep saying on on, cos it's all ways on bluddy on) passed Chilton Foliage where Marion took the lead and then wee climed up over the hills towards fox field - but all I sawed woz lots of deer, not foxes, which is stupid. At last, some 80 minits after loosing the pub, we gave up and ran bak towards Hungerford. Katrina saw our plite from her car but ignored us, so remember me next thyme I see er too say that woz not frendly.

At last we all got back safely in the end, even Margret who is slow as she is tired of being a grand old mistress, but luckily she had a stiff drink of hot water and woz soon revaporated.

In the Downgate we all huddled together and talked about the day. The walkers who weren't needed where they went, came back and sed they'd had a fantastic wonderful day with Andrea and thanked her greatly for being an excellent person. Even the runners recovered enough to speak well of Moreerece and his lonh ash, and Margret thanked him for a great trail and being there – which woz just in time so he could be home for supper coz Andrea had the food on the table.

Maurice and Andrea - thank you both very much for two great trails
